

MONITOR MEANTIME.

TO	FROM	TIME
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.
San Francisco	San Francisco	10:25 P.M.

COMMERCIAL.

RECEIVED FEBRUARY 19, 1877.
The bark Skylark arrived from the Kona, after an unusually long passage of 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

The schooner Maui arrived from a cruise along the North Coast, after a trip of twenty-seven days from Puget Sound.

DEATH.—We learn with deep regret that Major Dickson breathed his last at six o'clock this morning. He died with distinction during the late war, and has made many warm friends here. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss.

THE STEAMER AUSTRALIA.—The South, which was due next week—just what day no one can predict. She leaves Sydney on Feb. 10, and if she follows the route which the City of Sydney traversed, may not be here till Wednesday.

LONG PASSAGE.—Bark Mary Belle Roberts arrived on the 15th inst., after a passage of twenty-eight days from San Francisco. The long trip was owing to head winds and calms. Captain Gray says he is generally as far along after 48 hours, as he was this time on the 17th day out.

SCHOONER MABEL SCOTT.—This vessel arrived on Thursday last, from Fanning's Island via Hilo. She brought up Mr. Holder of the firm of Messrs. Holder and Bros. London, with his wife, and Mr. Arnold. Superintendent of the guano islands belonging to said firm.

WEATHER.—During the past week, we have had very warm and calm weather up to Monday afternoon, when it began to blow from the south, with every appearance of a storm. A few showers of rain fell during the night, and then the wind changed to the north-west, where it has continued up to this time.

OFFICIAL.—By a notice in the official column, it will be seen that His Excellency J. M. Smith and His Excellency A. S. Hartwell have been appointed to take charge of the office of Foreign Affairs and Finance during the absence of the incumbents on the business of the Commission to develop the resources of the country.

CORRECTION.—In our account of the new steamer last week, we made an error in saying that she is to be fastened with galvanized iron bolts. She is to be copper-fastened in the most thorough manner, and the only water there will be no exposure to the action of the salt water will iron bolts be used, and in all cases the bolts will be deeply sunk and covered with sheet lead and lead put.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—The office of the second clerk in the Interior Department has been vacated by the death of Mr. J. M. Jones. This appointment will, we are confident, give general satisfaction; the only possible objection against the appointee being his lack of proficiency in the Hawaiian language. But we doubt not that with his well-known linguistic talent he will soon succeed in removing this objection.

E. MIKALEMI.—This gentleman, who is well known in Honolulu, having represented this district for two consecutive sessions in the Legislature, died on Friday last after a short illness, aged forty years. He was a fine specimen of the better class of Hawaiians, having of course his faults, but possessed of much energy and thrift. By his industry he had succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property. His funeral took place on Sunday.

STEAMER KILAUEA.—Having been prevented from taking her departure on Monday afternoon by the southerly gale which was then blowing, the Kilauea left at five o'clock last evening, with over 25 cabin and 65 deck passengers, most of them tourists bound for the scene of the eruption now in progress on Hawaii. Among them we note the names of the editor of the GAZETTE, the editor of the Kaunaloa, and a reporter for the P. C. Advertiser and Lahai Hawaii. It is therefore likely that the reading public will be long furnished with full and minute account of the outbreak.

THE LOST BOYS.—From the following extract from the San Francisco Daily Call, of Feb. 24, it appears that there is no doubt of the death of young Harber and Dudley: "An Italian Fisherman informs Capt. Baker of the Harbor Police, that he saw the broken pieces of the plunger 'Redoubt' on the beach near Point Bonita last evening, hence there can be no doubt that the two boys—son of John Barbo and A. P. Dudley—were drowned when the plunger capsized. The parents having given up all hopes of seeing the boys alive, employed men to patrol the beach in search of their bodies."

DEPARTURE.—The Commissioners appointed under the act of the last Legislature "to develop the resources of the Kingdom," accompanied by Major Wodehouse, took their departure yesterday, at 11 a. m. in H. R. M. F. Antelope, for the island of Hawaii. The Commissioners expect to land at Mahukou, from which point they will start on a tour around the island, accepting probably three or four weeks to the circuit. After landing the Commissioners of the Antelope will proceed to Kau for the purpose of affording Captain Long and his officers an opportunity to witness the volcanic phenomena now to be seen in that district.

PROPOSED EXHIBITION.—We learn that Inspector General Hitchcock, who has recently returned from the Philadelphia Exhibition, has brought with him a superior Stereopticon, and about one hundred and twenty photographic views, illustrating very fully the sights and scenes of the Centennial Show, and also Niagara Falls, the "old region," and the overland railway, as well as other interesting views, comic scenes, chromotypes, etc. The Stereopticon is illuminated by a powerful oxy-hydrogen light, which is equal to the light of two hundred candles. Mr. Hitchcock will give one or more exhibitions of these dissolving views at an early date in this city, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. Association, accompanying the exhibitions with descriptive lectures. He intends or proposes to make the tour of the group, giving everywhere free exhibitions for the benefit of school children, to whom, we have no doubt, they will prove very interesting, as well as instructive.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on the islands about forty years, and who has been in familiar daily intercourse with the natives during the most of that time, must certainly be as well informed of the disposition and feeling of the Hawaiians as the editor of the Advertiser. And if the editor believes that the statement is devoid of truth, and that its publication is a grave injury to the people of these islands, why did he republish it? Had he produced testimony to disprove it, the case would be different; but now, there is his assertion on one side, and the assertion of the writer in the Herald on the other. Which shall we believe? INQUIRY.

PORT OF HONOLULU.

ARRIVED.
Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

The schooner Maui arrived from a cruise along the North Coast, after a trip of twenty-seven days from Puget Sound.

DEATH.—We learn with deep regret that Major Dickson breathed his last at six o'clock this morning. He died with distinction during the late war, and has made many warm friends here. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss.

THE STEAMER AUSTRALIA.—The South, which was due next week—just what day no one can predict. She leaves Sydney on Feb. 10, and if she follows the route which the City of Sydney traversed, may not be here till Wednesday.

LONG PASSAGE.—Bark Mary Belle Roberts arrived on the 15th inst., after a passage of twenty-eight days from San Francisco. The long trip was owing to head winds and calms. Captain Gray says he is generally as far along after 48 hours, as he was this time on the 17th day out.

SCHOONER MABEL SCOTT.—This vessel arrived on Thursday last, from Fanning's Island via Hilo. She brought up Mr. Holder of the firm of Messrs. Holder and Bros. London, with his wife, and Mr. Arnold. Superintendent of the guano islands belonging to said firm.

WEATHER.—During the past week, we have had very warm and calm weather up to Monday afternoon, when it began to blow from the south, with every appearance of a storm. A few showers of rain fell during the night, and then the wind changed to the north-west, where it has continued up to this time.

OFFICIAL.—By a notice in the official column, it will be seen that His Excellency J. M. Smith and His Excellency A. S. Hartwell have been appointed to take charge of the office of Foreign Affairs and Finance during the absence of the incumbents on the business of the Commission to develop the resources of the country.

CORRECTION.—In our account of the new steamer last week, we made an error in saying that she is to be fastened with galvanized iron bolts. She is to be copper-fastened in the most thorough manner, and the only water there will be no exposure to the action of the salt water will iron bolts be used, and in all cases the bolts will be deeply sunk and covered with sheet lead and lead put.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—The office of the second clerk in the Interior Department has been vacated by the death of Mr. J. M. Jones. This appointment will, we are confident, give general satisfaction; the only possible objection against the appointee being his lack of proficiency in the Hawaiian language. But we doubt not that with his well-known linguistic talent he will soon succeed in removing this objection.

E. MIKALEMI.—This gentleman, who is well known in Honolulu, having represented this district for two consecutive sessions in the Legislature, died on Friday last after a short illness, aged forty years. He was a fine specimen of the better class of Hawaiians, having of course his faults, but possessed of much energy and thrift. By his industry he had succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property. His funeral took place on Sunday.

STEAMER KILAUEA.—Having been prevented from taking her departure on Monday afternoon by the southerly gale which was then blowing, the Kilauea left at five o'clock last evening, with over 25 cabin and 65 deck passengers, most of them tourists bound for the scene of the eruption now in progress on Hawaii. Among them we note the names of the editor of the GAZETTE, the editor of the Kaunaloa, and a reporter for the P. C. Advertiser and Lahai Hawaii. It is therefore likely that the reading public will be long furnished with full and minute account of the outbreak.

THE LOST BOYS.—From the following extract from the San Francisco Daily Call, of Feb. 24, it appears that there is no doubt of the death of young Harber and Dudley: "An Italian Fisherman informs Capt. Baker of the Harbor Police, that he saw the broken pieces of the plunger 'Redoubt' on the beach near Point Bonita last evening, hence there can be no doubt that the two boys—son of John Barbo and A. P. Dudley—were drowned when the plunger capsized. The parents having given up all hopes of seeing the boys alive, employed men to patrol the beach in search of their bodies."

DEPARTURE.—The Commissioners appointed under the act of the last Legislature "to develop the resources of the Kingdom," accompanied by Major Wodehouse, took their departure yesterday, at 11 a. m. in H. R. M. F. Antelope, for the island of Hawaii. The Commissioners expect to land at Mahukou, from which point they will start on a tour around the island, accepting probably three or four weeks to the circuit. After landing the Commissioners of the Antelope will proceed to Kau for the purpose of affording Captain Long and his officers an opportunity to witness the volcanic phenomena now to be seen in that district.

PROPOSED EXHIBITION.—We learn that Inspector General Hitchcock, who has recently returned from the Philadelphia Exhibition, has brought with him a superior Stereopticon, and about one hundred and twenty photographic views, illustrating very fully the sights and scenes of the Centennial Show, and also Niagara Falls, the "old region," and the overland railway, as well as other interesting views, comic scenes, chromotypes, etc. The Stereopticon is illuminated by a powerful oxy-hydrogen light, which is equal to the light of two hundred candles. Mr. Hitchcock will give one or more exhibitions of these dissolving views at an early date in this city, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. Association, accompanying the exhibitions with descriptive lectures. He intends or proposes to make the tour of the group, giving everywhere free exhibitions for the benefit of school children, to whom, we have no doubt, they will prove very interesting, as well as instructive.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on the islands about forty years, and who has been in familiar daily intercourse with the natives during the most of that time, must certainly be as well informed of the disposition and feeling of the Hawaiians as the editor of the Advertiser. And if the editor believes that the statement is devoid of truth, and that its publication is a grave injury to the people of these islands, why did he republish it? Had he produced testimony to disprove it, the case would be different; but now, there is his assertion on one side, and the assertion of the writer in the Herald on the other. Which shall we believe? INQUIRY.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

ARRIVED.

Feb. 19—Port of Honolulu, from Honolulu, 21 days from San Francisco, with a cargo of sugar, which was thought to be the best of the season. She will land for the cargo port, leaving the latter part of next week, or after the mail steamer's departure.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The bark Skylark left her anchorage yesterday for the guano islands.

Our next news from San Francisco may be looked for by the bark D. C. Murray, due the latter part of next week.

The Kilauea will be laid up next week, to overhaul machinery. She may not be back from Kau before Monday next, March 5th, she will leave for Hilo.

A DEAD CAT.—Last week the Kona natives had the good fortune to find a whale floating off the coast, which they secured. We did not learn how much oil it yielded.

BARKENTINE VICTORY.—From Hilo we learn that this craft arrived at that port last week, with a cargo of lumber, which she is discharging. She made a trip of twenty-seven days from Puget Sound.

DIED.—We learn with deep regret that Major Dickson breathed his last at six o'clock this morning. He died with distinction during the late war, and has made many warm friends here. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss.

The steamer Australia, from the South, will be due next week—just what day no one can predict. She leaves Sydney on Feb. 10, and if she follows the route which the City of Sydney traversed, may not be here till Wednesday.

LONG PASSAGE.—Bark Mary Belle Roberts arrived on the 15th inst., after a passage of twenty-eight days from San Francisco. The long trip was owing to head winds and calms. Captain Gray says he is generally as far along after 48 hours, as he was this time on the 17th day out.

SCHOONER MABEL SCOTT.—This vessel arrived on Thursday last, from Fanning's Island via Hilo. She brought up Mr. Holder of the firm of Messrs. Holder and Bros. London, with his wife, and Mr. Arnold. Superintendent of the guano islands belonging to said firm.

WEATHER.—During the past week, we have had very warm and calm weather up to Monday afternoon, when it began to blow from the south, with every appearance of a storm. A few showers of rain fell during the night, and then the wind changed to the north-west, where it has continued up to this time.

OFFICIAL.—By a notice in the official column, it will be seen that His Excellency J. M. Smith and His Excellency A. S. Hartwell have been appointed to take charge of the office of Foreign Affairs and Finance during the absence of the incumbents on the business of the Commission to develop the resources of the country.

CORRECTION.—In our account of the new steamer last week, we made an error in saying that she is to be fastened with galvanized iron bolts. She is to be copper-fastened in the most thorough manner, and the only water there will be no exposure to the action of the salt water will iron bolts be used, and in all cases the bolts will be deeply sunk and covered with sheet lead and lead put.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—The office of the second clerk in the Interior Department has been vacated by the death of Mr. J. M. Jones. This appointment will, we are confident, give general satisfaction; the only possible objection against the appointee being his lack of proficiency in the Hawaiian language. But we doubt not that with his well-known linguistic talent he will soon succeed in removing this objection.

E. MIKALEMI.—This gentleman, who is well known in Honolulu, having represented this district for two consecutive sessions in the Legislature, died on Friday last after a short illness, aged forty years. He was a fine specimen of the better class of Hawaiians, having of course his faults, but possessed of much energy and thrift. By his industry he had succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property. His funeral took place on Sunday.

STEAMER KILAUEA.—Having been prevented from taking her departure on Monday afternoon by the southerly gale which was then blowing, the Kilauea left at five o'clock last evening, with over 25 cabin and 65 deck passengers, most of them tourists bound for the scene of the eruption now in progress on Hawaii. Among them we note the names of the editor of the GAZETTE, the editor of the Kaunaloa, and a reporter for the P. C. Advertiser and Lahai Hawaii. It is therefore likely that the reading public will be long furnished with full and minute account of the outbreak.

THE LOST BOYS.—From the following extract from the San Francisco Daily Call, of Feb. 24, it appears that there is no doubt of the death of young Harber and Dudley: "An Italian Fisherman informs Capt. Baker of the Harbor Police, that he saw the broken pieces of the plunger 'Redoubt' on the beach near Point Bonita last evening, hence there can be no doubt that the two boys—son of John Barbo and A. P. Dudley—were drowned when the plunger capsized. The parents having given up all hopes of seeing the boys alive, employed men to patrol the beach in search of their bodies."

DEPARTURE.—The Commissioners appointed under the act of the last Legislature "to develop the resources of the Kingdom," accompanied by Major Wodehouse, took their departure yesterday, at 11 a. m. in H. R. M. F. Antelope, for the island of Hawaii. The Commissioners expect to land at Mahukou, from which point they will start on a tour around the island, accepting probably three or four weeks to the circuit. After landing the Commissioners of the Antelope will proceed to Kau for the purpose of affording Captain Long and his officers an opportunity to witness the volcanic phenomena now to be seen in that district.

PROPOSED EXHIBITION.—We learn that Inspector General Hitchcock, who has recently returned from the Philadelphia Exhibition, has brought with him a superior Stereopticon, and about one hundred and twenty photographic views, illustrating very fully the sights and scenes of the Centennial Show, and also Niagara Falls, the "old region," and the overland railway, as well as other interesting views, comic scenes, chromotypes, etc. The Stereopticon is illuminated by a powerful oxy-hydrogen light, which is equal to the light of two hundred candles. Mr. Hitchcock will give one or more exhibitions of these dissolving views at an early date in this city, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. Association, accompanying the exhibitions with descriptive lectures. He intends or proposes to make the tour of the group, giving everywhere free exhibitions for the benefit of school children, to whom, we have no doubt, they will prove very interesting, as well as instructive.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on the islands about forty years, and who has been in familiar daily intercourse with the natives during the most of that time, must certainly be as well informed of the disposition and feeling of the Hawaiians as the editor of the Advertiser. And if the editor believes that the statement is devoid of truth, and that its publication is a grave injury to the people of these islands, why did he republish it? Had he produced testimony to disprove it, the case would be different; but now, there is his assertion on one side, and the assertion of the writer in the Herald on the other. Which shall we believe? INQUIRY.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on the islands about forty years, and who has been in familiar daily intercourse with the natives during the most of that time, must certainly be as well informed of the disposition and feeling of the Hawaiians as the editor of the Advertiser. And if the editor believes that the statement is devoid of truth, and that its publication is a grave injury to the people of these islands, why did he republish it? Had he produced testimony to disprove it, the case would be different; but now, there is his assertion on one side, and the assertion of the writer in the Herald on the other. Which shall we believe? INQUIRY.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on the islands about forty years, and who has been in familiar daily intercourse with the natives during the most of that time, must certainly be as well informed of the disposition and feeling of the Hawaiians as the editor of the Advertiser. And if the editor believes that the statement is devoid of truth, and that its publication is a grave injury to the people of these islands, why did he republish it? Had he produced testimony to disprove it, the case would be different; but now, there is his assertion on one side, and the assertion of the writer in the Herald on the other. Which shall we believe? INQUIRY.

ASSOCIATION VERSUS ASSASSINATION.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAWAIIAN GAZETTE:
THE P. C. Advertiser, of the 16th instant, copies an article from the December number of the Missionary Herald, making a very brief statement of the moral condition of the Hawaiians, and of their feeling towards foreigners; and the editor takes exception "to the statement that there is a general feeling of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners." The writer is noticing some of the unpleasant facts of the case; and the sentence from which the editor takes the exceptional statement reads thus: "A general feeling, at present, of antipathy on the part of native Hawaiians against foreigners, amounting to hatred of whites on the part of the vicious, while among the better class of natives it is a suspicion and distrust of their white friends—a fear to trust them." It may be that antipathy was too strong a word to use. It may express more than the writer intended; but there can be no doubt that there is much distrust and jealousy. The elections of representatives for a few years past show ample evidence of this. The editor declares the statement to be devoid of truth, but he brings forward no evidence to show that it is so. Which is to be believed, his assertion, or that of the writer in the Herald? He says: "The writer (of the letter in the Herald) whenever he may be, is grossly misinformed upon the subject, and is to be blamed, if a resident here, for not being better informed." Now, it seems to me that there is a lack of clarity here, a man who has been on